Thanks,

I can probably share this with him since he is representing a state.

Hi Ed,

We shared the list of states with ECOS/AAPCO, but didn't post on the web. Texas is one of the states on the list.

I thought the Q&A site listed the states. Did we not post that? Is TX one of them?

Hi Edward,

ECOS gave me your information as a source for more information regarding PFAS in pesticide containers. I was on the EPA state call a couple of weeks ago. Do you have information you can share regarding which states are among the 35 that received the product? Also, is a copy of EPA's study regarding the containers available for review?

Thanks for any information you can provide.

Best regards,
Jim
